

Project 1 Proposal (updated):

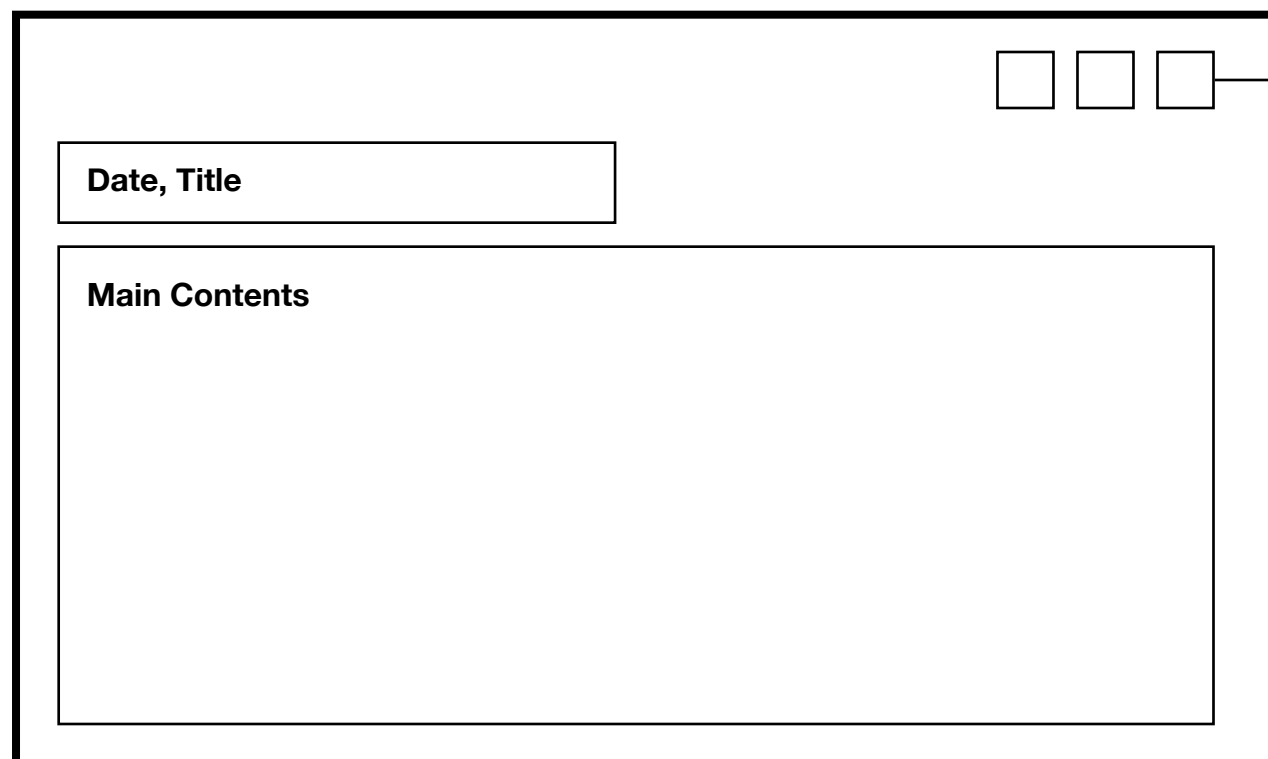

SS-NEWS.COM

Background:

Sprite sheet originally came from game graphics, since it was easier to deal with one image that combined with several single images than numerous single images separately. Most of them were having a sequence of repetitive movements. However, video games had tried to have real-looking visuals, that was why sprite sheet in the game industry was not that highlighted during some period. However, some people began to have unpleasant feelings about that kind of graphics, so sprite sheet began to get highlighted recently.

Suggestion:

What if the sprite sheet reflects our real world: the most recent events happening right now? This website is basically like a news website telling recent events. However, some words will be replaced with sprite sheet that shares the same meaning of each. They all have their own sequence that provokes deeper thoughts.

Buttons or icons that can change the mode of the texts

1. Only texts
2. Texts with moving icons
3. Only moving icons
4. Only sprite sheets of the icons

Additional Thoughts

- + Navigation for moving to other articles
- + About this site